Elder Abuse Protection Toolkit

Get the Facts

Elder abuse can occur anywhere. It can occur in a person's home and in Long Term Care Residential facilities. Elder abuse affects elders of all socio-economic groups, cultures, and races. Data shows that elders are most often abused by family members or a person in a position of trust. Most victims know their abuser. Elders who have the highest risk of abuse are women, "older elders", and individuals with dementia.

Definitions

Emotional Abuse	The intentional infliction of mental or emotional anguish by threat, humiliation, intimidation, or other verbal or non-verbal abusive conduct. Examples include name calling, insulting, ignoring for extended periods of time, frightening, intimidating, and isolating from friends and family.
Financial Exploitation	The unauthorized use of funds or any resources of an elderly individual; the misuse of power of attorney or representative payee status for one's own advantage or profit. Examples include stealing jewelry or other property and obtaining the elderly person's signature for transfer of property or for a will through force, pressure or violence.
Neglect	The failure by the caregiver to obtain adequate goods or services for the elderly person's maintenance and well-being, either intentionally or accidentally. Examples include a caregiver who fails to buy groceries or prescription medications. Neglect can also be self-induced. Self-neglect is when the behavior of an elderly person threatens his or her own health or safety. Examples are failure to provide oneself with adequate food, clothing, shelter, medication, safety, and proper hygiene.
Physical Abuse	The intentional use of physical force that results in bodily injury, pain, or impairment. Examples include beating, slapping, bruising, cutting, burning, pushing or shoving, excessively restraining, force-feeding, and physical punishment.
Sexual Abuse	The non-consensual sexual contact of any kind with an elderly individual. Examples include fondling of the breast or genitals, rape, coerced nudity, and sexually explicit photographing.

Definitions above are from Alabama's Elder Abuse Prevention Act., please see back side for definitions from Alabama's Adult Protective Services Act of 1976.

Definitions from the Alabama Adult Protective Services Act of 1976

Abuse	The infliction of pain, injury, or the willful deprivation by a caregiver or other person of services necessary to maintain mental and physical health.
Emotional Abuse	The willful or reckless infliction of emotional or mental anguish or the use of a physical or chemical restraint, medication, or isolation as punishment or as a substitute for treatment or care of any protected person.
Exploitation	The expenditure, diminution, or use of the property, assets, or resources of a protected person without the express voluntary consent of that person or his or her legally authorized representative.
Neglect	The failure of a caregiver to provide food, shelter, clothing, medical services, or health care for the person unable to care for himself or herself; or the failure of the person to provide these basic needs for himself or herself when the failure is a result of the person's mental or physical inability.
Sexual Abuse	Any conduct that is a crime as defined in Sections 13A-6-60 to 13A-6-70, inclusive. (rape, incest, sodomy and indecent exposure)

The Red Flags

Emotional Abuse

- Unexplained or uncharacteristic changes in behavior, such as withdrawal from normal activities, unexplained changes in alertness
- Social isolation
- Caregiver is verbally aggressive or demeaning, controlling, overly concerned about spending money, or uncaring

Exploitation

- Lack of amenities person can afford
- Elder giving excessive financial reimbursement/gifts for needed care and companionship
- Caregiver has control of elder's finances but fails to provide for elder's needs
- Elder has signed property transfers (Power of Attorney, new will, etc.) but is unable to comprehend the transaction or what it means.

Neglect

- Lack of basic hygiene, adequate food, or clean and appropriate clothing
- Lack of medical aids (glasses, walker, dentures, hearing aid, medications)
- Person with dementia left unsupervised
- Person confined to a bed left without care
- Home cluttered, filthy, in state of disrepair, or fire and safety hazards
- Home without adequate facilities (stove, refrigerator, heating, cooling, working plumbing, and electricity)
- Untreated pressure "bed" sores (pressure ulcers)

Physical/Sexual Abuse

- Unexplained fractures, bruises, welts, cuts, sores, burns, torn or bloody undergarments

Know the Four

Elder Abuse

Elders are the #1 target for financial scams. Scam operators use four primary methods to target elders - the mail, the telephone, in-person, and the Internet. Scam operators use high-pressure sale pitches, scare tactics, and false claims to deceive you and take your money.

1. THROUGH THE MAIL – Sweepstakes/International Lotteries, Fake Checks

- Letters that say you have won millions. The fake company may even send you a check to cover the taxes and fees.
- You must Western Union the money to an international address.
- Don't do it! This is a scam and it is illegal for U.S. residents to participate in any type of foreign lottery or sweepstakes.

2. OVER THE TELEPHONE – Telemarketing is big business. Most telemarketers are legitimate. But remember, their primary goal is to make a sale. Beware of people who call you on the telephone and:

- Will not send information to you in the mail.
- Insist you must make a decision that day.
- Try to obtain your personal information.
- Use high-pressured sales pitches and scare tactics.
- Do not encourage you to share information with someone you trust.

3. IN PERSON – Elders are twice as likely to fall for a scam in person. Be very careful who you let into your home. The best way to protect yourself is to not let anyone into your home who you were not expecting, including:

- Strangers who offer to do home repairs, especially after a disaster.
- Strangers who offer to sell you something or want to discuss your finances.
- Strangers who say they are from a utility company and need to check your meters, appliances, or other items in your house.

4. OVER THE INTERNET – Internet scams targeted at elders are on the rise faster than for any other age group, and elders need to be cautious when using the Internet. When you use the Internet, take these necessary precautions:

- Use a secure browser.
- Check the site's privacy policy before you order anything.
- Keep your personal information private.
- Review your monthly credit card and bank statements.

Power of Attorney

There is a lot of power in having a Power of Attorney when you need it. Just make sure you give that power to someone you absolutely trust!

THE POWER OF A POWER OF ATTORNEY

It is important for elders and their family members to make sure all financial and legal affairs are in order to protect their finances, their home, and their assets. It is essential to learn how important these legal documents are and how to be protected from being financially exploited before they sign on the bottom line and give someone complete control of their assets.

WHAT IS A POWER OF ATTORNEY?

Financial Power of Attorney

This gives another person (your agent) the authority to manage your finances and property and to transact business on your behalf. An agent may not override your wishes and must make decisions as you would. A financial Power of Attorney normally goes into effect as soon as you sign it allowing your agent to conduct your financial affairs immediately. A financial Power of Attorney can also be made for the future only if you are incapacitated.

Limited Power of Attorney

This gives the agent legal authority to perform only limited tasks on your behalf, but does not give him or her complete control over your financial matters. For example, you can give your agent the authority to cash your checks, but limit him or her to other powers over your assets.

Healthcare Power of Attorney

With a Healthcare Power of Attorney, you appoint an agent to make medical decisions on your behalf. It goes into effect only if you become incapacitated. By preparing this document in advance, you can decide who will make your medical decisions.

THINGS TO CONSIDER TO PROTECT YOURSELF

1. Choose your Agent carefully.

Only appoint someone as your agent if you know that you can absolutely trust him or her to make good decisions about your finances, health, and assets.

2. Consider getting legal advice first.

An attorney can counsel you on the different ways the documents can be set up to meet your needs, and perhaps avoid financial exploitation.

3. Consider establishing oversight.

For example, you may want to include a statement of your agent's fiduciary duty in your legal document and require your agent to sign the document which acknowledges his or her acceptance of the fiduciary duty. Also, you may want to require your agent to send regular accountings to another person or persons.

4. Understand you can change your mind.

If you decide to change who you appointed as your agent, you can revoke the document as long as you are mentally capable of understanding your decision.
